A Message From the President

To everyone in the OIF community,

It would be the greatest understatement to say that my second year as OIF Board President was an eye-opening and rewarding experience. From the OIF Scientific Meeting in Chicago, to the Brittle Bone Disorders Consortium (BBDC) principal investigators meeting, the National Health Council Volunteer Leadership Meeting in Florida and the International OI Scientific Meeting in Oslo, Norway, you learn very quickly that OI has no borders. And it's abundantly clear that there are as many dedicated people throughout the world as there are here in the U.S.

FULL SPEED AHEAD

The BBDC continues to accelerate OI research with five of its six OI-related studies now up and running including; OI and pregnancy, dental malocclusion and craniofacial development, and a Phase I clinical trial on a new drug to treat severe OI. Through the Jamie Kendall Fund for OI Adult Health, we can also celebrate the first year of a new pulmonary study and a brand new tool kit, chock full of information for adults living with OI.

GO TEAM!

Thanks to the wonderful efforts of the OI community, we added eight new fundraising events last year and increased our annual budget more than $200,000. That's no drop in the bucket either! These advances give our doctors and researchers more tools and resources, and our Foundation the ability to fund even more Impact Grants through the CBBF/OIF Jeanie Coleman Impact Grant program. If you're interested in holding a fundraiser in your area, please contact the OIF office at 301/947-0083 or development@oif.org. Large or small, they have the tools to make your event a success! My wife Teresa and I hold two fundraisers annually, a golf tournament in New Hampshire and Fine Wines in Florida, and without the efforts of the OIF development and event staff, none of it would be possible. But when you see the benefits and positive effects fundraising has on our community, the hard work is that much more rewarding!

O CANADA

Please join me in thanking everyone who attended the OIF Regional Conference at Montreal's Shriners Hospital for Children, not to mention suffered through my attempt at mastering French! This was not only our first regional conference north of the border but our first outside the U.S. And none of this would have been possible without the hospitality and expertise from Dr. Francis Glorieux, chair of the OIF Medical Advisory Council, and his entire team. More importantly, this conference was one of the final steps in solidifying a new partnership with the Canadian OI Society. Now, we can combine our efforts to provide information and resources to all individuals living with osteogenesis imperfecta throughout North America.

COMINGS & GOINGS

This year, we will be losing three key members of the OIF Board of Directors. Alcides Ortiz (treasurer), Robin Wright (Vice President) and Carolyn Tipton (secretary) each served seven years on the board, the last few on the Executive Committee. Without them, many of our achievements would not have been possible and I cannot thank them enough for their time and contributions.

Lastly, and especially after this whirlwind year, there's no way I could conclude without thanking a few folks for making it all possible. Our CEO, Tracy Hart, has traveled near and far, not only representing the Foundation, but advocating on the entire community's behalf. Tracy and her entire staff—Erika, Tom, Melissa, Petra, Danielle, Jenny, Desiree and Kasia—are selfless and tireless when it comes to supporting the entire community. So, next time you contact the office or see a staff member in person, say a little thank you if you have the chance. It will mean the world. And to each and every medical professional working on behalf of the OI community, it's an honor to meet and work alongside you, and you remind me daily how lucky we are to have you on our side. With you, there's hope—hope for better treatments, better awareness and a better quality of life.

Here's looking forward to an amazing 2018 and I hope to see you in Baltimore for the OIF National Conference July 13-15. If you haven't already registered, do so now at www.OIF.org.

Thank you,

Kenneth W. Gudek, Sr.

Awareness and Education

Awareness and Education—From May 6–13, 2017, the OI Foundation held its eighth annual National OI Awareness Week. Volunteers across the country held awareness and fundraising events within their communities. OI Awareness Week was proclaimed in more than 20 towns, cities, counties and states. The OIF also participated in Wishbone Day, the international day of OI awareness held on May 6 each year, by sharing facts and information about OI on our social media sites every hour for 12 consecutive hours. We reached more than 209,000 people through our National OI Awareness Week social media campaign called #SHAREforAWARENESS. National OI Awareness Week and Wishbone Day help to raise awareness about OI all around the world!

OIF Medical Advisory Council members Dr. Jay Shapiro and Dr. Cathleen Raggio hosted a clinical meeting on OI October 5–7, 2017 in Baltimore, MD. The meeting was developed as part of the Jamie Kendall Fund for OI Adult Health for clinicians and medical professionals who directly manage the care of children and adults living with OI. Sessions covered the clinical perspective of topics such as growth impairment, dental disease, pulmonary function, cardiac disease, rehabilitation and function, orthopedic treatment, pharmacologic treatment, quality of life issues, and more.

Dr. Jay Shapiro leads a session at the Clinical Meeting on OI in Baltimore, MD, in October 2017

Scientific Meeting

On April 19-21, 2017, the OI Foundation gathered more than 100 researchers, clinicians, and medical professionals at the 17th Annual OIF Scientific Meeting in Chicago, IL. Co-chaired by Dr. Charlotte Phillips and Dr. Sandesh Nagamani, this important meeting hosted speakers and attendees from the National Institutes of Health (NIH), the Brittle Bone Disorders Consortium (BBDC) sites, and many other OI centers and labs from across the continent. The meeting emphasized lectures and discussion surrounding novel targets and new therapeutic strategies in treating osteogenesis imperfecta. Speakers presented on topics including unmet pharmacologic therapeutic needs in OI, extraskeletal involvement, surgical treatment, and the latest data from the BBDC. The conference was made possible by the generous support of the Buchbinder Family Foundation. Prior to the scientific meeting, the principal investigators of the Brittle Bone Disorders Consortium met to evaluate progress made on the consortium led studies and activities.

Research Grants

The OIF continued funding the research of three young investigators: Dr. Ronit Marom of Baylor College of Medicine, Dr. Kyung-Eun Lim of Indiana University School of Medicine, and Dr. Ivan Duran Jimenez of UCLA David Geffen School of Medicine.

The OI Foundation continued to support, through the Jamie Kendall Fund, a pulmonary study at Hospital for Special Surgery led by Dr. Cathleen Raggio. This community directed scientific committee led study is in direct response to the growing concern in the OI community of pulmonary complications, especially in adults. It will work to determine the inherent cause of restrictive physiology (cardiopulmonary insufficiency) in people with OI so that treatments can be recommended and appropriate measurements for an accurate assessment of the restrictive physiology in OI patients can be defined by creating a standard normative reference for each OI type.

Rare Bone Disease Meeting

This year's annual meeting of the American Society for Bone and Mineral Research (ASBMR) featured several sessions on OI and related bone disorders. The Rare Bone Disease Working Group, chaired by Dr. Matthew Drake of the Mayo Clinic, began with an update on the Brittle Bone Disorders Consortium (BBDC) by Principal Investigator Dr. Brendan Lee of Baylor College of Medicine. Later on in the meeting, OIF Medical Advisory Council Chairman Dr. Francis Glorieux presented on the topic "30 Years of Treatment of OI: Where We Are and Where We Are Going." Presentations throughout the meeting discussed cutting-edge research on bone pain and the biology of sclerostin and its role in bone health.

NIH Brittle Bone Disorders Consortium (BBDC)

Now in its fourth year, the BBDC has made significant progress in achieving its goals. There are now 14 Clinical Research Sites (doubled since 2016) working together to collaborate on exciting new research. To date, the BBDC is involved in seven studies including a pregnancy study, an early stage drug therapy study, a scoliosis study, a biomarkers study, a quality of life study, a dental study, and a craniofacial study. The OIF is working very hard to continue funding this project to ensure this pace of research is maintained.

Additionally, the OIF is funding the research participation of the Hospital for Special Surgery and the Shriners Hospital for Children—Tampa in the Brittle Bone Disorders Consortium (BBDC).

National and Regional Conferences

The Uniting Unbreakable Spirits Regional Conference Program, an effort to bring information and resources to more members of the OI community, hosted meetings in Houston, Texas; Montreal, Canada; and Seattle, Washington, in 2017. In the New Year, the OI Foundation is excited about the 2018 OIF National Conference being held in Baltimore, Maryland, in July, as well as a return to the west coast for a 2nd Regional Conference in Los Angeles, California, in November 2018.

Impact Grants

In partnership with the Children's Brittle Bone Foundation, the Jeanie Coleman Impact Grant program awarded nearly $125,000 to people with OI in need of products or services that would improve their quality of life. Funding was provided for a wide range of items including accessible vehicles, hearing aids, eye glasses, and dental work.

OIF National Information Center

Approximately 7,000 requests for information were provided during the year and the OI Foundation website was visited more than 800,000 times. New this year, the OI Foundation has recently revised the publication: Physical and Occupational Therapists – Guide to Treating Osteogenesis Imperfecta. This tool for therapists, parents, adults, and educators shares strategies on safe handling, adaptive equipment, functional assessments, and self-care tasks. This new guide is available – along with a variety of resources including booklets, brochures and more than 70 newly updated fact sheets – free of charge from the OI Foundation. As a part of the Foundation’s campaign to increase outreach and educate medical professionals who treat individuals with OI, the OIF continued its popular podcast series, with 18 episodes to date.

Social Networking

The OI Foundation manages two official social networking sites: the OIF Facebook Page with 10,044 likes and OI Foundation Twitter (@OIFoundation) with 2,400 followers. The OI Foundation website continues to offer links to other social networking pages that might be helpful or interesting to parents and individuals living with OI. To date, more than 8,700 people are members of the official OIF Facebook Forum page! The OIF Forum page is for OI community members to ask questions, share information and experiences, and connect with other OI community members

International Collaborations

In August 2017, OIF CEO Tracy Hart attended the OI International Scientific Meeting in Oslo, Norway. She – along with several members of the OIF Medical Advisory Council and OIF Board President, Ken Gudek – spent four days meeting with specialists in OI care from around the world and discussing ways to encourage and define collaboration. In addition, Tracy participates in monthly calls with the OI Federation Europe president, the Executive Director of the UK Brittle Bone Society, and the Executive Director of Care for Brittle Bones located in the Netherlands. The organizations meet to discuss issues and needs that affect all OI organizations across the globe.

We are very excited to announce that in early 2018, the OI Foundation will launch a new section of www.oif.org dedicated to serving the OI community in Canada. The Canadian Osteogenesis Imperfecta Society (COIS) page will share updated information about research, events and resources relevant to Canadians affected by osteogenesis imperfecta. All materials will be available in English and French.

New Events

The Foundation continued expanding its annual Fine Wines Strong Bones Gala to host similar Fine Wines Receptions and Strong Bones Galas in new cities across the country. Nine Fine Wines Strong Bones events were held in 2017 in Naples, Florida; Washington, DC; Tampa, Florida; New York, New York; Boston, Massachusetts; Montreal, Canada; Chicago, Illinois; Garfield, New Jersey; and Houston, Texas. Money raised from these fundraising events has helped the OI Foundation provide scholarships to the OIF National Conference, create new resources, bring on new BBDC Clinical Research Sites, fund a promising pulmonary study and expand the pulmonary study to include cardiac research.
